Dear Sir,

I am Rakesh Kumar and the neighbour of Mohan Sinha and have known him from the past 15 years. Mohan and I are college mates. We live in the same community and are involved in the activities of the community on a joint level which involves participating in cleanliness drives and spreading awareness about diseases.

From what I have gathered from these 15 years is that he is a kind and just person. The recent turmoil between him and his wife has affected his 8-year old son, and since the question of the custody of the child arises, I think Mohan is perfectly fit for this role. Both he and his child share a great camaraderie between each other, and I cannot imagine one without the another. His son will be best-taken care of in his hands, and I perfectly believe that he will fulfil all the wishes and needs of his child.

I hope that you look into my application and take care of this and make these two souls united for the rest of their life.

Thank You.

Yours sincerely,
Rakesh Kumar
