Dear Hedley Ingram,

It isn't very often that I say this, but I would like to say something through this letter. Our friendship has intertwined with many ups and downs, but it's the memories that will always be cherished. I want to thank you for throwing that beautiful surprise party at your house on my 20th birthday. I never expected such a thing, and it was so overwhelming to see that.

The party was a total blast for me, and I had a ball. Words can't describe the amazing feeling, and such gestures are the reason why I am friends with you. [You can describe the party].

Again a heartfelt thank you to you and looking forward to rocking more such parties.

Yours lovingly,
David Mathews
