

Goodbye Letter to Ex Wife

Dear -----,

It is with great sadness that I write to you my dear beautiful wife about the sad phase that we are going through together. I tried to hold on to you and our beautiful relation, but all the efforts were left in vain and my heart also shattered into million pieces. Though, not every relationship is perfect, but all those fights and moments of sadness we went through broke our relation bit-by-bit.

Every dream of ours is now past just like our relation. But, still I wish all the best and happiness to you in the world. You will always be the first love of my life.

Yours Lovingly,

Your Name
