

Goodbye Letter to Ex Girlfriend

Dear -----,

I still remember the first time I saw you and the way our eyes met. You were my strength, my great support and the best feeling in the world during ----- (mention the phase of life). Initially, everything happening was great and cheerful. Slowly and steadily as we move forwarded towards the later stages of our relationship things went completely off the track. We were fighting for each other and with each other.

However, some things are not meant to be together and they aren't going to come back into your life. I wish you all the luck in the life and hope that you are truly happier now.

Goodbye!

Yours Lovingly,
