

Apology Letter for Hurting Someone You Love

Dear Uncle,

Greetings!

I heard about your recent surgery. I hope that you're fine and doing well now. I am writing this letter to apologize to you that I could not come and meet you. In fact, I couldn't be of some help to you in this tough time. I am really sorry that I have been so busy at work that could not look after my family too. I deeply regret being not available for any of you, in fact for hurting you by saying ill words to you. I am an idiot.

But, I have planned to come and see you all soon enough. I hope that you would not mind and would forgive me. I am sorry uncle. Please take good care of yourself. I had not enough guts to speak to you and hence sharing my feelings by writing this letter. I hope that you would consider my apology.

Thank you. Take care of yourself, Uncle. Please give my regards to aunt too.

Sincerely,

[Write your Name]
