Dear Zorita Anderson,

I know that you know that I will write something to you before leaving. Of course! Well, do not start getting any sentimental again. This is not to make you upset but to tell you that let's catch up and plan a trip together.

People come and go in life but best people like us being best colleagues meet only once and stay together till last trip. Therefore, there is no need to be upset. We are going to meet at least twice every year.

By the way, you will be missed, buddy. I am going to miss our secret talk for the manager we have been working and about the plans we ruined. You are the best nut. Take care!

Lots of best wishes and happiness coming your way, grab them all.

Love & regards,
Jordan Calderon
