

Apology Letter to Mom from Daughter

Dear Mom,

Mom, I always want to be the best daughter ever. I always want to make you happy and proud. But I do silly mistakes I know that hurt you a lot. You never stop me from doing anything, whatever I want to do. I am sorry that I am such a failure and maybe this is because of my fault. You will always say I am not, but deep down I know I am. I am not even able to clear just one exam to fulfill your all dreams. I will always be a disappointment, and I am sorry that I gave you another weight on your mind with my continuous failure. And that fills me with guilt and regret. I hope to god that I did not make everything awkward. I apologize for wasting this much time on social media and not preparing seriously for the exam. This is breaking me inside, please at least talk to me.

Your's girl,

Abc.
